MEMORANDUM

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
FROM: WILLIAM LECHER, P.E., COUNTY ENGINEER
DATE: JANUARY 13, 1992
RE: LEACHATE HAULING & TREATMENT

~~~~~

As part of the construction contract with Western Waste Industries at the West Nassau Landfill site the County is responsible for the testing, hauling, and treatment of leachate encountered during construction. The Board has authorized the firm of Roy F. Weston Engineering to investigate different methods of leachate treatment at the West Nassau Landfill site. The two methods being investigated are the hauling off-site of the leachate in tanker trucks to a sewage treatment facility or to construct an on-site wastewater treatment plant.

Roy F. Weston Engineering has determined that the most cost-effective course of action is to develop an on-site sewage treatment facility. The facility will not be on-line during the construction phase of the landfill. It designed to handle leachate generation during operational phase of the landfill which will be considerably less than during the construction phase.

Therefore, it is recommended that the leachate generated during the construction phase be hauled to an approved wastewater treatment facility. There is currently leachate on the site that is required to be hauled away and treated. The leachate has been generated sooner than anticipated. The County currently does not have a contract to haul the leachate.

The County has contacted numerous companies in Jacksonville to determine if they can test, haul and treat the leachate encountered during construction. Of the contacted firms, only Environmental Technologies Southeast is capable of providing this service.
