Norm,

I didn't include the Router and management in the last sheet I sent you. It is considered an optional service so not included in the circuit level pricing. I added it to the sheet attached. Let me know if this is okay.

Thanks,

I just want to confirm the details of your price since it is less than the original quote. I show it totaling $2,010.02/month. Does that include internet and WAN and SIP?

When looking at the config, I am concerned again about the WAN being included. The sub interface of gi0/0.1509 should be where all of the traffic for the interface is passing since gi0/0 looks like it is just a physical interface, but I don't get why interface gi0/0 has the circuit ID of my other internet circuit. Between the interface and the sub-interface descriptions, both internet circuit ID's are listed and gi0/0 is labeled as WAN. I wanted to compare against the 10M MFN1 circuit, but I don't have that config. Please send me that, and explain why both circuits would be described on gi0/0 and its sub-interface.
